mission which begins from the individual. This awareness triggers knowing one's responsibility and one's perception towards cleanliness of self and others as well as surroundings. Street cleaning and drain cleaning is very important to keep the surrounding clean as well as maintaining a healthy and hygienic life style. Use of toilets is one of the major concern of this developing nation to eradicate open defecation and emphasize on personal hygiene.

The main objective was to make people and children aware for cleaning the surrounding as well as maintaining cleanliness in daily activities. It's our duty to be clean first before making others aware of others. In village most of the people were not aware about Swachh Bharat, So this activity made people aware to maintain a hygienic lifestyle.

The main objectives of this programme are:

- To improve quality of life of people living in the rural areas.
- Motivate people to maintain sanitation in rural areas to complete the vision of Swachh Bharat by 2019.
- To motivate local working bodies (such as communities, Panchayati Raj Institutions, etc.) to make available the required sustainable sanitation facilities.
- Develop advance environmental sanitation systems manageable by the community especially to focus on solid and liquid waste management in the rural areas.
- To promote ecologically safe and sustainable sanitation in the rural areas.

Various Strategies followed are visiting the nearby villages, neighbouring areas and Basti areas, The materials used for awareness was only chart paper and colors for drawing posters and showing to the people. Videos were also used to make people aware about "Swachh Bharat Abhiyan" with help of YouTube. Slogans, Speech on Swachh Bharat mission, making people aware of importance of toilets, cleaning the streets and drain with the help of local people and using different types of dustbins for different types of wastes- biodegradable and non-biodegradable are few other strategies which were followed.

Although the programme was of short duration, but still a noticeable change was observed in lifestyle of people of the villages. In one of the villages around 10 families put dustbin in front of their house for throwing waste. Two different dustbins were also set by the village committee in front of the temple. A good number of people supported the cause and appreciate the ideas. Some people also promised to use dustbin every day and to keep the village clean. There was notable cleanliness in the streets and back alleys of the village.

15. Extension Lecturer Series

Lecture on Ganita Sikhneaur Sikhane ki Padhati by Shri Hanuman Sahai Sharma

The talk by Shri Sharma can be concluded as Mathematics is a subject that has a wide range of applications in various fields. It is not only important for academic purposes but also for everyday life. According to him, there are four major steps that one can take to tackle a mathematical problem:

1. Students should solve problems after giving some time to build an idea/algorithm in mind in place of attempting it soon after reading the problem.
2. They should try to understand the problem and its context before attempting to solve it.
3. They should break down the problem into smaller parts and solve each part separately.
4. They should practice regularly to improve their mathematical skills.

Mathematics learning enhances problem-solving skills, critical thinking, and logical reasoning abilities. It improves analytical skills that can be applied in various real-life situations, such as budgeting or analysing data¹. In addition, expressing mathematical ideas orally helps children to build communication skills. It can also form an important part of developing understanding of mathematical concepts and the ability to reason mathematically.

16. Lecture on Ganitsikhne me Prayogsala ke upyog by Shri Naggarjuna Sharma (08.11.2017)

The talk by Shri Sharma can be concluded as Mathematics is a subject that has a wide range of applications in various fields. It is not only important for academic purposes but also for everyday life. According to Mathigon, mathematics has countless hidden uses and applications in everyday life, such as predicting the weather, reconstructing three-dimensional images, analysing data, building bridges, designing cars, and more. Applied mathematics is the application of mathematical methods to real-world problems with the dual goal of explaining observed phenomena and predicting new, as yet unobserved, phenomena¹. Therefore, the emphasis is on both the mathematics, e.g. the development of new methods to meet the challenges of new problems, and the real world.

Here is a list of some real-life applications of mathematics that might interest you:

1. Weather prediction: Mathematics and supercomputers can help predict one of the most complex systems on planet Earth.
2. Medicine: Advanced mathematical techniques allow us to reconstruct three-dimensional images for solid objects like your head.
3. Finance and banking: Mathematics is used to calculate interest rates, compound interest, and other financial calculations.
4. Computer science: Mathematics is the foundation of computer science and is used in programming, algorithms, and data analysis.
5. Engineering: Mathematics is used in designing and building structures, machines, and systems.
6. Cosmology: Mathematics is used to understand the origin and future of the universe².

7. Epidemics analysis: Equations can help us predict how the outbreak of a new disease might spread over time, and evaluate different responses.

17. Lecture by Shri Jagadananda Sahoo on Clean and Healthy India (15.09.2017)

The talk could be concluded as the following major points:

1. Importance of cleanliness: Cleanliness is essential for maintaining good health and hygiene. It helps to prevent the spread of diseases and infections. Cleanliness also has a positive impact on the environment and helps to reduce pollution².
2. Objectives of Swachh Bharat Abhiyan: The Swachh Bharat Abhiyan, or Clean India Mission, is a country-wide campaign initiated by the Government of India on October 2, 2014, to eliminate open defecation and improve solid waste management and to create Open Defecation Free (ODF) villages. The program also aims to increase awareness of menstrual health management. The objectives of the first phase of the mission included eradication of manual scavenging, generating awareness and bringing about a behaviour change regarding sanitation practices, and augmentation of capacity at the local level. The second phase of the mission aims to sustain the open defecation free status and improve the management of solid and liquid waste, while also working to improve the lives of sanitation workers.
3. Achievements of Swachh Bharat Abhiyan: Since its launch on October 2, 2014, by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, approximately 6 crore toilets have been constructed under Swachh Bharat Abhiyan, around 300 districts, 3 lakh villages and 10 states/Union Territories have been successful in eradicating open defecation. India's total sanitation coverage today is at 76 per cent up from a mere 39 per cent in 2014. By achieving the lowest open defecation-free status in 2019, India achieved its Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) 6.2 health target in record time, eleven years ahead of the UN SDG target of 31 December 2030.
4. Challenges faced: The Swachh Bharat Abhiyan has faced several challenges, including lack of awareness, inadequate infrastructure, and insufficient funds. The program has also faced criticism for being more focused on constructing toilets than on ensuring their usage and maintenance. The second phase of the mission aims to address these challenges and sustain the open defecation free status.

5. Impact of Swachh Bharat Abhiyan: The Swachh Bharat Abhiyan has had a significant impact on the lives of people in India. It has improved the health and hygiene of millions of people, especially women and children. The program has also created employment opportunities for people in the sanitation sector. The Swachh Bharat Abhiyan has also helped to raise awareness about the importance of cleanliness and hygiene among the general public.
6. Future plans: The Swachh Bharat Abhiyan is an ongoing program, and the government has several plans for the future. The second phase of the mission aims to sustain the open defecation free status and improve the management of solid and liquid waste, while also working to improve the lives of sanitation workers. The government has also launched several other initiatives, such as the Swachh Bharat Summer Internship, to engage young people in the mission.
