1.3.2 "Institution familiarizes students with the diversities in school system in Indian as well as in an international and comparative perspective."

Multi-regional, cultural and lingual climate prevailing in the institute facilitates personal connections among students and has a direct impact on students for a nation's standard of living. These experience is further fused via curricular and co-curricular activities to foster empathetic behaviour and critical thinking skills and prepare the students to collaborate effectively as globalized citizens. The syllabus is also well planned and mixed up with components that enable the students to consider multiple view-points and appreciates different perspectives and how to approach it positively (Refer Excel sheet) . The students are made aware global perspectives enables to compare and contrast the diversities exist in local, regional, national and international arenas to execute their responsibilities. The student-centric approach that areadopted by faculty members' aids self-learning. The assessments are made individual and group to enable participatory method of learning possible. Group discussion, debates, presentation, project work, reviews and reflections on critical questions help the students to witness the various perspectives. Participation in various community activities and minor research on the social issues give experiential learning possible among students for better learning. Interaction with national and international experts are arranged for the students to share and discuss with their queries and enrich their knowledge.
