Respected Madam/Sir,

BY EMAIL

In pursuance to the Judgement of the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India dated 08.05.2009 in Civil Appeal No. 887/2009, the UGC had notified "Regulations on Curbing the Menace of Ragging in Higher Educational Institutions, 2009". The Regulations are available on the UGC website i.e. www.ugc.ac.in. These regulations are mandatory for all higher educational institutions across the country.

As multiple mechanisms are required to ensure a ragging-free campus, here are some recommendations and action steps which are need to be taken by your esteemed university and all institutions under your ambit.

A. Basic Measures:

1. Constitution of anti-ragging committee, anti-ragging squad, setting up of Anti-Ragging Cell and adequate publicity for these measures through various media.
2. A clear mention of anti-ragging warning in the institution's prospectus and information booklets /brochures shall be ensured.
3. Preparation of e-admission booklet or brochure, e-leaflets of your institutions giving detailed guidance to admitted students in case of ragging, instead of print/hard copy.
4. Display of banners/posters at conspicuous places in the campus to create awareness on anti-ragging measures amongst students (soft copy of the posters attached are also available on UGC website www.ugc.ac.in & www.antiragging.in)
5. Updation of websites of institutions with the complete address and contact details of nodal officers related to anti-ragging committee.
6. An online undertaking in every academic year to be submitted by each student and every parent, in compliance with the UGC Regulations and its 2nd Amendment regarding submission of undertaking.
7. UGC has notified 3rd Amendment in UGC Regulations on 29th June, 2016 to expand the definition of ragging by including the following:
"3. (i) Any act of physical or mental abuse (including bullying and exclusion) targeted at another student (fresher or otherwise) on the ground of colour, race, religion, caste, ethnicity, gender (including transgender), sexual orientation, appearance, nationality, regional origins, linguistic identity, place of birth, place of residence or economic background."

8. Installation of CCTV cameras at vital points.

B. Counseling and monitoring measures

1. Regular interaction and counseling with the students to detect early signs of ragging and identification of trouble-triggers.
2. Surprise inspection at hostels, students' accommodation, canteens, rest-cum-recreation rooms, toilets, bus-stands and any other measure which would augur well in preventing/quelling ragging and any uncalled for behaviour/incident.

CONTINUATION SHEET

C. Creative Dissemination of the idea of ragging-free campus

1. Events like Anti-Ragging workshops, seminars and other creative avenues to spread the idea.
2. Safety and security apps without affecting the privacy of individuals can be creatively deployed.

D. Using other UGC initiated measures

1. Students in distress due to ragging related incidents can call the National Anti-Ragging Helpline 1800-180-5522 (24x7 Toll Free) or e-mail the Anti-Ragging Helpline at helpline@antiragging.in.
2. For any other information regarding ragging, please visit the UGC website i.e. www.ugc.ac.in & www.antiragging.in and contact UGC monitoring agency i.e. Centre for Youth on mobile No. 09818044577 (only in case of emergency).
3. UGC also drives an Anti-Ragging Media Campaign through different modes and has undertaken following activities to promote anti-ragging which are available on UGC website i.e. www.ugc.ac.in.
 - a. UGC has developed 05 TVCs of 30 seconds each from different perspectives i.e. Parents, Victim and Offenders.
 - b. UGC has designed and distributed posters amongst Universities/Regulatory Authorities/Councils/IITs/NITs/Other educational institutions for prominent display.
 - c. UGC has consecutively organized 02 Anti-Ragging Competitions for students/faculty /general public for the wider awareness of the menace of ragging.

Any violation of UGC Regulations or failure of institution to take adequate steps to prevent ragging in accordance with these Regulations or failure to punish perpetrators of incidents of ragging suitably, will attract punitive action under the UGC Act.

You are also requested to fill online compliance on www.antiragging.in and also immediately instruct all the colleges/institutions under their purview to follow it.

D.O. No.WW-13016/2/2017-WW-Part(1)(e-90054)

Date: 7th December, 2020

Dear Sir/Madam,

As you are aware, the Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013 (hereinafter referred to as the Act) has been notified on 09th December 2013 to provide a safe and secure environment to women at the workplace.

The Act upholds women's fundamental right to equality as guaranteed under Article 14 and 15 of the Indian Constitution, right to live with dignity under Article 21 and right to practice any profession or to carry on any occupation, trade or business which includes a right to a safe working environment free from sexual harassment as provided under Article 19 (1) (g) of the Indian Constitution.

With improved access to education and employment, millions of Indian women are entering the country's workforce. It is the responsibility of every employer to ensure compliance of the provisions of the Act as well as sensitise their employees towards the need to uphold the dignity of women and end gender stereotype so as to encourage more and more women to participate in economic activities. This will contribute to realisation of gender equality and result in inclusive growth for the benefit of the nation as a whole.

To take this agenda forward, this year, the Ministry of Women and Child Development has decided to celebrate the seventh anniversary of notification of this landmark legislation that is 09th December 2020 by requesting all organisations to conduct a special meeting of Internal Committee with a one point agenda to review the pendency of cases and dispose them on priority.

I, therefore, request you to kindly issue necessary instructions to all Internal Committees constituted under the SH Act in your Ministry and the Organisations/ Statutory Bodies/ Autonomous Bodies/ PSUs under your Ministry/ Department to organize the meeting of Internal Committee on 09th December 2020 to review the pendency of cases. I shall be grateful, if feedback of the meeting held on that day in your Ministry/ Department and Organisations is also provided to this Ministry by 15th December, 2020.

PREFACE

The early six years of childhood constitute the most significant period in life, because at this stage the foundations are laid for motor, sensory, cognitive, language, social and personality development. Early Childhood Care and Education (ECCE) is considered to be crucial intervention for providing an enabling and stimulating environment to the child to ensure a sound foundation for both lifelong learning and development. ECCE contributes significantly to improvement in enrolment, retention, participation and learning level of children in formal schooling. The need for meaningful ECCE programme has been emphasized in the National Policy on Education (1986) and Programme of Action (POA, 1992). The significance of ECCE has been confirmed in the National Plan of Action (2005) and the National Curriculum Framework (NCF), 2005 at national level and the Global Monitoring Report of UNESCO (2007) at international level. The NCF-2005 suggests that young children should be provided with care, opportunities and experiences that lead to all round development-physical, social, mental, emotional and school readiness. To provide ECCE of equitable quality to all children the NCF-2005 identifies five basic dimensions of quality to be addressed namely (i) developmentally appropriate curriculum (ii) trained and adequately rewarded teachers (iii) appropriate teacher child ratio (iv) Infrastructure supportive of children's needs and (v) encouraging style of supervision and monitoring. It also suggests to evolve appropriate norms and guidelines and to set in place a regulatory framework. The exemplars on ECCE has been developed by NCERT during 2015. The DM School serves as an experimental model school to tryout innovations in the field of school education. For the session 2020-21 the ECCE Center ran smoothly with the help of many people in the process starting from development and reinforcement of infrastructure, selection of teachers, selection and admission of students, training of teachers and staff and evaluation of feedback.

We are grateful to the, Director, NCERT, and the Principal, R.I.E Bhubaneswar Prof P. C. Agarwal for their unflinching support for this programme. We gratefully acknowledge the continued support and encouragement provided by Head, DEE, members of ECCE cell, Mr. Ghanashyam Patra and In-charge Primary Section. Our thanks are due to the teachers Ms. Suchitra Samal, Ms. Sonali Panda and all the parents for their continued support and encouragement in smooth organization of the programme during this pandemic. We thankfully acknowledge the support provided by Mr. M.K Beshra from time to time and C & W section of the institute for timely renovating the space for the classrooms. Our very special thanks to all the students for making the center so very vibrant.

constructing knowledge. Play contributes to the development of representational thought.

- Child development and learning are characterized by individual variation: No two children are same. Each child has an individual pattern and timing of growth and development as well as individual styles of learning. Children's personal, family experiences and cultural backgrounds also vary.
- Children's learning reflects a recurring spiral that begins in awareness, and moves to exploration, to inquiry, and finally, to application. Any new learning by children begins with awareness, which is generated from their experiences with objects, events, or people and ends with utilization, where children are able to use what they have learnt for multiple purposes and apply their learning to new situations. At this stage children start exploring the next level of information and the spiral continues.
- Children need to experience success more than failure to form a positive self-concept: The experiences should be planned in accordance with the maturational level of the children, such that they are challenging yet achievable, so as to promote self-confidence. When children have confidence in themselves, they do better. They are eager to try new and harder things; they gain new skills and become more confident and capable.
- Children develop holistically and benefit from integrated experiences and education: Learning and development of children takes place in totality. All the domains of development i.e. physical, motor, cognitive, language, socio-personal, emotional and creative and aesthetic appreciation are interrelated and take place simultaneously.

2. Objectives of the Programme

During the session (2020-21) for organization of the ECCE Center two teachers for the posts on contractual basis were selected from last sessions merit list as fresh interview could not be held due to covid pandemic. Mrs. Suchitra Samal and Mrs. Sonali Panda were selected as teachers.

Programme Planning and Development of Activities out lines

Planning is an important part of creating and implementing the ECCE Curriculum. Since the ECCE Programme has to be framed and transacted keeping the specific developmental objectives in mind. The long term developmental objectives were spelt out towards which the programme is geared and materials /activities to be used to meet these objectives. The Position Paper, National Focus Group on ECCE, 2005 developed by NCERT suggested the following basic tenets of curriculum development for ECCE:

- Based on needs and capacities of young children
- Recognition of special features of children's thinking
- Mix of formal and informal interaction
- Familiarity and challenge in everyday rhythm
- Primacy of experience rather than expertise
- Developmentally appropriate practice and flexibility
- Use of local material, arts and knowledge which reflect the diversity and culture of the children.

The team members in a workshop mode developed the month wise – week wise action plan for ECCE center for 2020-21. Starting from the September 2020 to March 2021 the developmentally appropriate practices were implemented. A month wise – week wise action plan describing specific activities for physical development, language development, socio-emotional development, cognitive development and pre-writing skills was developed keeping in mind the developmental characteristics of the children at this stage. The Action Plan depicting detailed activities is presented in Appendix-B.

Development of Profile: Since ECCE in essence is development oriented and not syllabus oriented, continuous informal evaluation of child in terms of developmental objectives is absolutely essential. Assessment is an essential and integral component of any ECCE programs to ensure that the programs remains child centric and the experiences and activities are planned according to the level of the child. It gives an insight into children's interests, achievements and possible difficulties in their learning from which next steps in learning and teaching can be planned and it thereby provides a platform to support the planning of a coherent curriculum for progression in learning. In order to ensure that the programme is responsive to the developmental needs of the each child, it is essential to maintain their developmental and learning profile.

The purpose of assessment is to give useful information about child's learning and development to the adults involved with the programme and also to children and their families. It also helps ensure early identification of developmental delays, special educational needs and abilities. Assessment contributes to evaluation, revision, and development of programs.

For assessing and reporting assessment of pre-school students DEVELOPMENT PROFILE was developed in-house depicting developmental characteristics of students. The profile covers Creative development, Aesthetic skill development, Social development, Emotional development, Physical development, Language development and Cognitive development. Some of the skills/abilities/activities on each domain were listed in the profile and assessment of child continuously was done on continuous basis. The detail of the development is presented in Appendix-C.

Orientation of Teachers: Teachers in an ECCE programme are facilitators who engage children in multiple experiences to foster their all-round development. The early years of children constitute the most significant period in life, because it is this when the foundations are laid for motor, sensory, cognitive, social and personal development. A two-day orientation of teachers was held during September 2020. In addition to the orientation at R.I.E Bhubaneswar, the teachers, attendants and parents were oriented on different themes like: Significance of early childhood care and education, NCF-2005 and ECCE, Programme planning for ECCE, Strategies for ECCE, Early identification of children with special needs and Assessment of pre-school students/children. The team was oriented on the following roles of ECCE Teachers to:

- Observe children to identify their needs and capabilities and move with the pace of the each child's development
- Plan developmentally appropriate, holistic and challenging activities
- Focus not only on planning and conducting activities but also on continuous processes for interaction and relating learning to child's environment.
- Create nurturing and positive relationships with children and among children
- Organise supportive learning environment by taking care of aspects such as the arrangement of the physical environment and equipment; the scheduling of activities and events and groupings
- Work in partnership with parents
- Facilitate learning to meet the objectives of the curriculum
- Help in early identification and intervention for children with special needs

School- Community Interaction: Meeting with Parents: If child is the first priority in early childhood programme, parents are the second priority. Parents are the child's first teachers and continue to have the primary responsibility for their child's development. Parents, teachers and school therefore function together as partners to help the child learn and grow. The young child spends most of the time at home and much of the early learning occurs through the child's day to day interactions with the family. The parents have a major role to play in the child's development, much beyond merely being around the child and providing food and other basic needs. Parents need to:

- Provide a conducive environment at home for optimal development and learning and spend quality time with the child
- Encourage exploration and experimentation at home and optimally utilize the ample opportunities for incidental and lifelong learning arising from the daily activities
- Play a cooperative role and establish a relationship of trust and mutual respect with the teacher/caregiver at the ECCE centre
- Share and plan the development of their child along with the teacher/caregiver
- Participate in the open days and other events for parents and community
- Not to force formal learning and competition at this early age and respect child abilities and personality.

Working with parents in an early childhood education programme includes two aspects-parental involvement and parent education. During the session apart from incidental meetings and discussions when parents come to leave or pick their children organized and formal meetings were held. During the session three formal PTM meetings were held. During meeting parents, teachers and team members participated.

- Child development and learning are characterized by individual variation: No two children are same. Each child has an individual pattern and timing of growth and development as well as individual styles of learning. Children's personal, family experiences and cultural backgrounds also vary.
- Children's learning reflects a recurring spiral that begins in awareness, and moves to exploration, to inquiry, and finally, to application. Any new learning by children begins with awareness, which is generated from their experiences with objects, events, or people and ends with utilization, where children are able to use what they have learnt for multiple purposes and apply their learning to new situations. At this stage children start exploring the next level of information and the spiral continues.
- Children need to experience success more than failure to form a positive self-concept: The experiences should be planned in accordance with the maturational level of the children, such that they are challenging yet achievable, so as to promote self-confidence. When children have confidence in themselves, they do better. They are eager to try new and harder things; they gain new skills and become more confident and capable.
- Children develop holistically and benefit from integrated experiences and education: Learning and development of children takes place in totality. All the domains of development i.e. physical, motor, cognitive, language, socio-personal, emotional and creative and aesthetic appreciation are interrelated and take place simultaneously.

Programme Planning and Development of Activities out lines

Planning is an important part of creating and implementing the ECCE Curriculum. Since the ECCE Programme has to be framed and transacted keeping the specific developmental objectives in mind. The long term developmental objectives were spelt out towards which the programme is geared and materials /activities to be used to meet these objectives. The Position Paper, National Focus Group on ECCE, 2005 developed by NCERT suggested the following basic tenets of curriculum development for ECCE:

- Based on needs and capacities of young children
- Recognition of special features of children's thinking
- Mix of formal and informal interaction
- Familiarity and challenge in everyday rhythm
- Primacy of experience rather than expertise
- Developmentally appropriate practice and flexibility
- Use of local material, arts and knowledge which reflect the diversity and culture of the children.

The team members in a workshop mode developed the month wise – week wise action plan for ECCE center for 2021-22. Starting from the October 2021 to March 2022. A month wise – week wise action plan describing specific activities for physical development, language development, socio-emotional development, cognitive development and pre-writing skills was developed keeping in mind the developmental characteristics of the children at this stage .The Action Plan depicting detailed activities is presented in Appendix-B.

Development of Profile: Since ECCE in essence is development oriented and not syllabus oriented, continuous informal evaluation of child in terms of developmental objectives is absolutely essential. Assessment is an essential and integral component of any ECCE programs to ensure that the programs remains child centric and the experiences and activities are planned according to the level of the child. It gives an insight into children's interests, achievements and possible difficulties in their learning from which next steps in learning and teaching can be planned and it thereby provides a platform to support the planning of a coherent curriculum for progression in learning. In order to ensure that the programme is responsive to the developmental needs of the each child, it is essential to maintain their developmental and learning profile.

The purpose of assessment is to give useful information about child's learning and development to the adults involved with the programme and also to children and their families. It also helps ensure early identification of developmental delays, special educational needs and abilities. Assessment contributes to evaluation, revision, and development of programs.

2. The HM D M School appraised the Committee members that during the present academic session and till now the teachers of school are taking online classes with their personal equipments and thus it is high time that the school should provide them the equipments such as Computer system at least in each classroom for taking online classes and future needs.
